Sir:

The applicant #10,083,771 has been made aware of changes made to the record after the final office action. Since said applicant did not request or give permission for any changes to the record the applicant can only regard the examiners actions as being an oversight.

The applicant has based his arguments for appeal on the examiners original arguments of the final response and believes that changing anything in the record after the final office action could work to put the applicant in an unfair position during appeal.

If any changes have been made, the applicant requests to be notified in writing as to exactly what such changes are.

Since the applicant does not rule out further necessary steps toward attaining a patent, said applicant is sending this communication in for the record.

Thank You,

Huey Thomas Crochet
